

Friday, May 26, p.m. — Tyne Cot Commonwealth War Graves Cemetery

Tyne Cot .is the final resting place of nearly 12,000 Commonwealth soldiers, almost 8,000 of them unknown casualties of the battle of Passchendaele.

Above: Dawn McArthur tends to a grave.
By Robert Judd.

Left: Cathy Britt at the grave of Thomas Robinson of Delhi. By Dawn McArthur.

Historian Filip Debergh describes the Allied assault on this part of Belgium.

By David Judd.

By Robert Judd.