

Sunday, May 28, p.m. – Arnhem, Netherlands

Our hosts Joe and Nancy Murray with Nils, our driver.

By Sheila Pilgrim.

The bridge over the Rhine River at Arnhem was the famous “bridge too far.” Allied paratroops captured the bridge in September 1944 in a bold move to rapidly advance against the Germans. Unfortunately, the Germans were able to recapture the bridge and prolong the war.

By George Gardner.

Lunch

Scott Jenereaux and Robert Judd.

By Ken Taylor.