

Tuesday a.m., May 23 — Canada House

Canada House was the first house in France liberated by the Allies on D-Day, June 6, 1944. Members of the Queen's Own Rifles captured the house which faces Juno beach. Today it is a privately owned home and museum aptly named Canada House.

Above: Wayne Whibley and Bob Castles.
By Barb Faulkner.

Right: German prisoners march by Canada House.
By Dawn McArthur.

D DAY ASSAULT
Bernières-sur-Mer, Normandy
6 June 1944

The Queen's Own Rifles
of Canada

Above: A depiction of the assault on Juno Beach.

Left: Roxanne DeCloet Harris places a flag at a memorial for slain members of the Queen's Own Rifles.

By Dawn McArthur.

By Dawn McArthur.

Joe Murray with propeller-equipped tank.

By Dawn McArthur.

